Dedication

We, the class of '54, dedicate our yearbook to our state, Pennsylvania. Through the years we have come to recognize and acknowledge the heritage we have received from her.

From the very beginning of our country, Pennsylvania has played a leading role in national affairs. The pages of our history books cannot be read without noting the great Americans whom she has called native sons, and the stirring events that have taken place within her borders which have contributed toward making our country what it is today.

Not only in history, but also in beauty, Pennsylvania is unsurpassed anywhere. The rolling mountains, the rich level fields and the bustling cities do their share in creating a panorama of beauty and industry of which we can well be proud.

In the years that lie ahead, we of this graduating class shall strive to carry out the high ideals of "Virtue, Liberty and Independence" which are the inspiring watchwords of our state motto.

Superintendent's Message

It is a genuine pleasure to extend congratulations to the class of 1954. You are the living product of a great enterprise—public education. By virtue of your graduation from high school, you have demonstrated ability to succeed in a difficult task. You have achieved success by virtue of your ability and efforts. However, much credit is due to the constant guidance of your parents and teachers who were motivated by sincere interest and patience beyond description.

To each one of you, I wish a most happy and successful life.

PATRICIA F. MANNS
Secretary

Laun C. Smith

At the close of this school year, Mr. Smith will be ending a long teaching career in the secondary schools of Waynesboro.

He began his teaching career in 1907 in a typical one-room school in Clearfield County where he taught all eight grades. It was in 1928 that he came to our school system as a mathematics teacher. In addition to his teaching, he also coached track for a number of years and in 1930 produced a championship team.

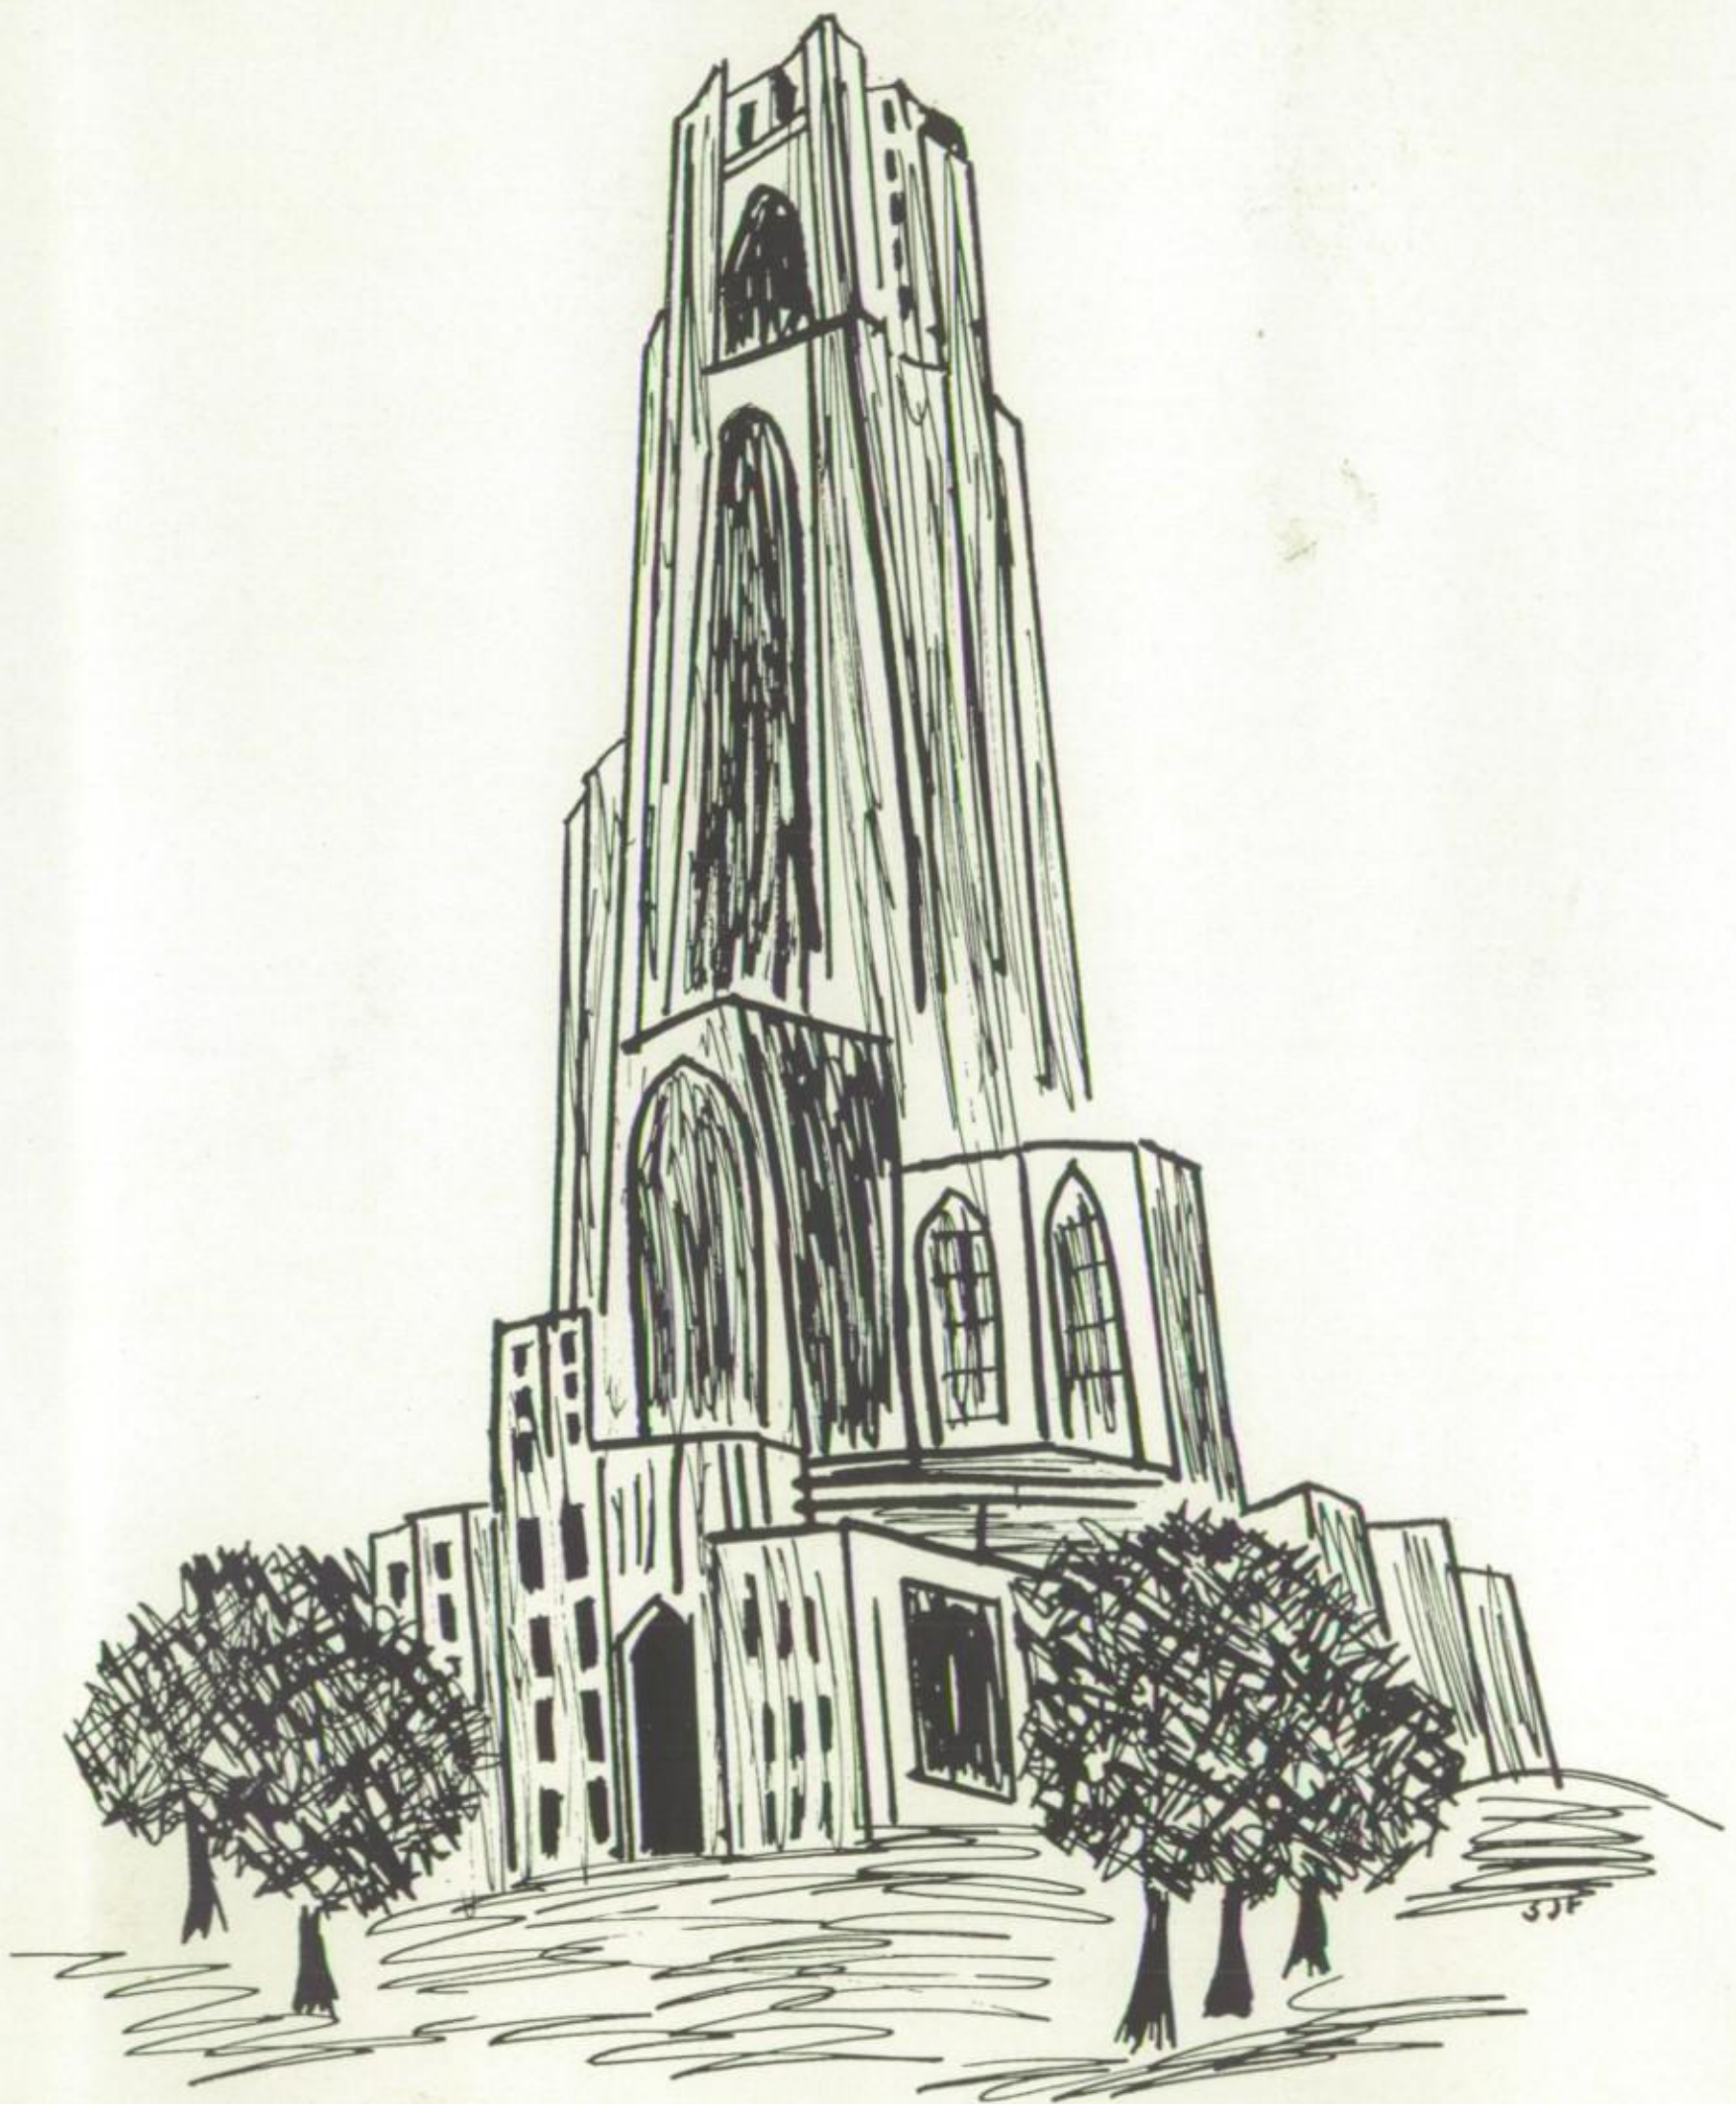

The many students whom he has taught through the years will readily agree that he deserves special recognition for a job well done.

Thinking up another quiz, Mr. Lehman?
Mr. Harbaugh giving a demonstration.
This looks good!
Pat on the job.
Next customer.

Mrs. Wilson gives some pointers.
Mrs. Neal's bookkeepers.
Mr. Walker shows how easy it is.
Where shall we go today?
This is the life—student teachers!

Senior Landmarks

Dear Diary:

Tonight as we received our diplomas in the crowded auditorium a significant goal was reached. As we pause to look back over the years there are many memories we will always cherish.

September, 1942, when we excitedly set out for the first day of school seems such a short time ago. From those first few years emerged many little incidents all too numerous to be related here.

When in sixth grade, we attended classes under the same roof for the first time. Changing classes each period was a novelty and the first taste of high school routine.

Junior high marked the end of recess and patrols but the beginning of gym classes, home economics, shop, assembly programs, athletics and other extra curricular activities. Our stay there, however, was brief for in ninth grade we were unexpectedly moved to senior high.

We entered these doors as lowly freshmen, extremely confused and bewildered. It was an honor, though, for our class was the first to attend senior high for four years, and we were all secretly thrilled.

It didn't take long to recuperate from our daze and our very first action as an organized group was to elect officers. After a heated campaign Jack Miller emerged the victor with Ronnie Chamberlain the runner-up. Lois Barkdoll served as secretary and Charlie Ruppert as treasurer. Our future athletes gained early experience on the gridiron and basketball court. The high school dance band furnished music for our Freshman Dance held in the spring. This gala affair rang down the curtain on our first year at senior high.

When we returned again in the fall of '52 as sophomores we were more confident and no longer underclassmen. Under the able leadership of our new president, Ronnie Chamberlain; vice president, Dennis Good; secretary, Jean Ringer; and treasurer, Max Kline, we contributed our talents and efforts to sports, journalism, music, and dramatics. New members were added to our ranks as the result of the jointure with Mont Alto.

For our first class project we staged three one-act plays entitled "You Too Can Be Charming," "Si Si Senorita," and "Candy Goes on A Diet" on May 2 under the direction of John E. Minnich. As the result of our efforts and those of our able advisers, the plays proved successful.

September, '53 rolled around and we now assumed the role of juniors. We were upperclassmen and very important, or seemed to be. This time Bob McFerren was selected to lead us with Charles Ruppert as vice president, Lois Barkdoll as secretary and Jean Ringer as treasurer to assist him.

To raise money for our prom we turned to Mr. Minnich who again directed our three one-act plays. "Once Upon a Prom Night," "No Television Tonight," and "Who Used Father's Charge Account?" were presented to an appreciative audience.

Many of us contributed our talents and efforts in the production of the Easter pageant, "The Robe." Those students who worked with Reverend Bitner in producing that memorable production will not soon forget its deep meaning.

The coming of spring meant prom time and we threw our hearts into the job to make it a dance long to be remembered by all who attended. The gym was transformed into "Shangri-La and the Valley of the Blue Moon" for an unforgettable evening of music and dancing.

The final crowning touch of our year as juniors was achieved when we received our class rings, distinguishing us as the future seniors.

This last and final year was certainly full of happy events. Our football team broke a three year losing streak by defeating Shippensburg and Martinsburg. The basketball team entered the Class B semi-finals by defeating Dallsatown. Tom Cross set four new scoring records and won a berth on the South Penn dream team.

In music, Carolyn Devor sang in state chorus and the band took honors in the Mummers Parade.

On February 18 and 20 we presented "You Can't Kiss Caroline" to two packed houses. Laurels go to the untiring efforts of Mr. Minnich, the cast and committees that made this play so successful.

Climaxing our activities was the long-awaited trip to New York. We spent the entire year working for this trip and when it was finally over were well rewarded for the work.

Then suddenly we were marching down the aisle to "Pomp and Circumstance." And now tonight we are not students but alumni, proud of our school and Alma Mater.

Junior Signposts

September! Again we entered the portals of the Waynesboro-Mont Alto Senior High School, this time not as quaking freshmen or dubious sophomores, but as confident juniors.

Franklin Woodring was for the third time elected president of our class. Ned Adams was chosen vice-president while Barbara Hanna and Sylvia Yordy were selected secretary and treasurer respectively. These competent officers, assisted by Miss Hade and Mr. Shull, directed us in our many activities. We decided on our class colors as lavender and white and our class flower as the white carnation. Getting our class rings, however, was the big achievement.

We have the distinction of being the first Junior class ever to present their three one-act plays for three nights. This rarity was due to a sudden snowstorm which resulted in postponing the performances until a later date. These plays—"Ring in the Groom", "For Whom the Telephone Rings", and "Campaign For Two"—were humorous productions capably directed by John E. Minnich.

The greatly anticipated event, the Junior-Senior Prom, was quite a gala affair. The entertainment and decorations were elaborately and refreshingly unique, portraying the gaiety of a kaleidoscope.

We are bound to be remembered, not only as a class, but as individuals who are determined to succeed.

"For whatever we strive to achieve, we will attain."

Sophomore Signals

When we walked through the doors of Waynesboro Senior High School this year, we weren't freshmen anymore, but still the underclassmen.

We began class action by electing our officers: president, Carroll Hartle; vice president, Joe Steiner; secretary, Julie Snyder; and treasurer, Jane Toms.

Some of the boys in the class were active participants in the athletic program. Others of us added our services to the numerous extra-curricular activities.

Deciding it was time to raise some money for future use, the sophomore class presented three one-act plays under the direction of John E. Minnich. We wish to thank Mr. Minnich, the cast and the committees for making the plays a success.

So ends our sophomore year. Our goal next year is to give the seniors a prom they will always remember.

We Took Time Out to Catch Up on the News

The staff of the Blue and Gold has worked earnestly to provide the student body with a school newspaper. Published seven times during the school term, it is the official voice of the school in recording its various activities.

In September the staff had difficulty finding an advisor. Mr. Shull, understanding this problem, made it possible to resume the editing of the newspaper by offering his assistance as the advisor.

This year's staff has done a fine job of reporting events of interest and adding humor to our daily lives.

We Learned About Government First Hand

This year's student council has put all personal consideration aside and has really dealt with the problems of the school. The members of this governing body feel that it is their responsibility to serve the school and make decisions that will uphold the traditions of their alma mater.

To start the school's social calendar, the council had a halloween party which all the students enjoyed. During the year they sponsored separate teas for the sophomore, junior, and senior students and their parents. In March the council sent Carolyn Devor, Barbara Shildneck, Naomi Myers, and Connie Keller as representatives to the annual Pennsylvania Southern District Conference of Student Councils held at Hershey. In April the council sponsored the movie "Wake of the Red Witch", in order to raise funds to buy a recording machine for the school.

We Studied Pennsylvania History in the Library

As Miss Lowry's assistants, the members of the Library Club devote much of their time and energy to helping keep the library neat and in order.

Besides rendering the school a helpful service, the girls learn that there is more to the operation of a library than merely checking out books. Their duties include shelving the books in their proper order, rebinding old books, assisting students in finding information, and decorating the bulletin board each week.

During book week a contest was sponsored by the club. Pictures from well-known books were displayed on the bulletin board and the students were to identify the book from which they were taken. The winner of the contest was Jack Welty, a sophomore.

Other activities were a special assembly program in the form of a talent show, exchanging gifts at Christmas, and a party honoring the seniors at the end of the year.

We Contributed to the Welfare of Others

Membership in Hi-Y is granted to any boy meeting the following requirements: clean speech, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living.

The Hi-Y is scheduled to meet twice a month at the Y. M. C. A.

The boys cooperated with the Tri-Hi-Y in sponsoring two dances at the Y. M. C. A. with proceeds from one going to the World Service Fund and contributions from the other going to needy families at Thanksgiving.

We Attended Thanksgiving Service with the Tri-Hi-Y

The platform of Tri-Hi-Y is self-improvement, Christian fellowship and service. Any girl, regardless of race or creed, who is willing to live up to these standards may become a member.

The club, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and the high school meets twice a month at the Y. M. C. A. under the guidance of Mrs. B. J. Roberts.

The various club activities were attending the community Thanksgiving service as a group, making scrapbooks for the children at the Mont Alto Sanatorium, and co-sponsoring two dances with the Hi-Y. The proceeds from one of the dances were sent to the World Service Fund and food, brought as admission for the other, was distributed to needy families at Thanksgiving.

In March a penny luncheon was held as a money-making project with the girls' mothers as guests. The Tri-Hi-Y closed a successful year with a banquet honoring the seniors.

We Stopped to Admire the Christmas Decorations

The art club, which is composed of students who have artistic ability and who are especially interested in this field, is under the supervision of the new art instructor, Miss Payne.

Several weeks before Christmas, these members could be seen painting a typical Christmas scene on the door of each of the rooms. Among other activities, they also decorated the stage for the Christmas program and participated in the art exhibit.

The members of this group will willingly say that they have enjoyed a successful year under the leadership of their new advisor.

We Were Guests at the Sorority Valentine Party

"Well, we've finally finished our big project for the year."

"Yes, it surely was fun decorating the children's ward at the hospital, wasn't it?"

"You bet! But the big thing I remember most about this year's activities is decorating for the Thanksgiving semi-formal we sponsored."

"Oh, that was cool, but didn't we have fun at our parties?"

"Yes, we certainly did. I'll never forget the valentine party we had for the little boys at the E. U. B. Orphanage."

"And, don't forget the Christmas party we had for the children in town."

"Even though we have had fun, we did get serious long enough to have our food sale."

"Yes, and we also made favors for the hospital on several special occasions."

"Well, all in all, I'd say we've had a very busy, but successful year, wouldn't you?"

"You bet! And now we are looking forward to our senior picnic. See you there!"

"Okay. Bye now."

We Watched the Band Take Honors in the Mummers' Parade

If you are wondering the name of that high stepping band that just passed by, it's the Waynesboro-Mont Alto High School Band enroute to anyone of its various engagements, which might be a football game, a parade, a concert or maybe just a practice session.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Zimmerman, meets on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday in the band room of the Senior High School.

As a reward for its long hours of practice the band took third prize at the Mummers' Parade in Hagerstown, Maryland, and also received an invitation to attend Band Day at Pennsylvania State University.

Don Mort was chosen to represent Waynesboro-Mont Alto High School at District Band, held at Manheim, Pennsylvania in February, where he played the tuba. As a result of the high rating he received there, he went to State Band at Norristown.

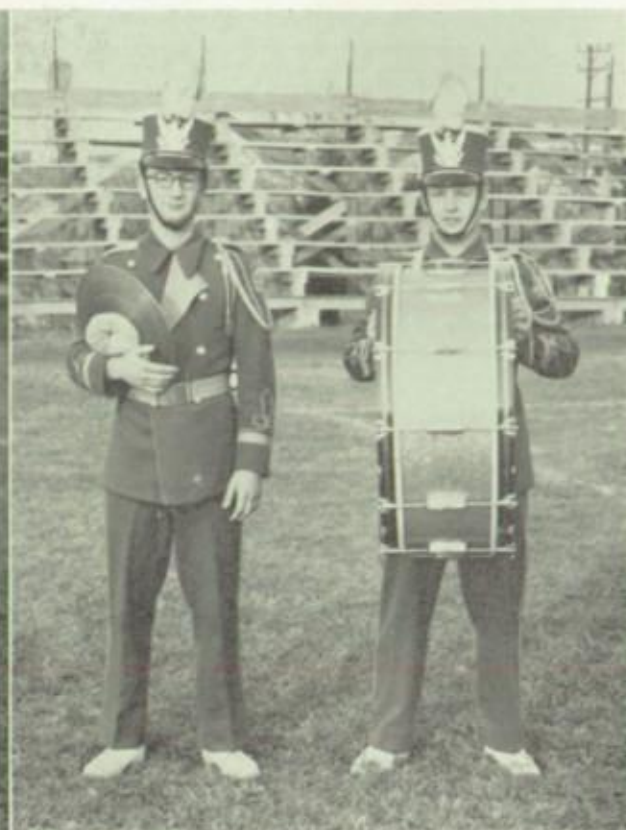

The band participated in County Band, on March 9, at Waynesboro-Mont High School Auditorium and in the District Forensic contest in April.

We Marched Down the Aisle to "Pomp and Circumstance"

In keeping with tradition, the Seniors will again this year march down the aisle to the dignified strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," as played by the high school orchestra.

Under the direction of Mr. Zimmerman, the orchestra meets every Wednesday to practice for its many engagements. Among other activities, they provided the music for our annual Christmas program as well as many of the assembly programs.

Patsy Shoop, Carol Merklinger and Charles Bearinger were selected to represent Waynesboro-Mont Alto High School at District Orchestra in Middletown on April 8, 9 and 10.

We Enjoyed an Evening of Dancing to the Music of the Velvetones

Listen! Is that popular music I hear? Yes, it's the Velvetones at one of their noontime practice sessions.

The dance band, under the direction of Mr. Zimmerman and student director Don Mort, has provided the music for many school and community activities during the year.

Among other engagements they played at the Whisker Club Minstrel, class plays, Y. M. C. A. dances, and the dance following the County Music Festival.

We are proud to have a band, which in a short time, has established itself as an important part of our school social life.

We Were Hosts to County Chorus

"Special chorus practice at noon today."

Yes, the members of this outstanding group, chosen from choral club, devote much of their time to perfecting their music. Long hours were spent preparing their contributions to the seasonal programs this year.

This group has also entertained several community organizations on numerous occasions. In October the special chorus joined with choral club to entertain the Shriner's at the Eagle's Club. The members of the group also sang with the Franklin County Festival Secondary Chorus in March. Several other engagements were singing during Music Week, and entertaining at a Lion's Club meeting.

The student body will readily agree that this is truly an outstanding musical group.

We Enjoyed Choral Club's Spring Festival

"Now girls, I want to hear the second sopranos here."

Well, have you guessed who is directing this group? Yes, Miss Kadel is having her choral club practice. It is Friday, seventh period and the songsters are rehearsing the music for the annual Spring Concert.

In January Audrey Shade, Shirley Willhide, Carolyn Devor, and Patsy Shoop represented this group at the Southern District Chorus held in Lebanon. From the group trying out at District Chorus, Carolyn Devor was selected to represent our school at the Pennsylvania State Chorus held in Meadville in February.

The student body has depended upon this group to entertain them at the special holiday programs this year. Other community organizations also have enjoyed its grand entertainment.

We Cheered Our Teams to Victory

The cheerleaders, led by Alice Wolff and Rayetta Biesecker, began the season by arousing student and team enthusiasm to an all time high in pep rallies, football and basketball games.

In football season they added to the color of the games by decorating the stadium. In addition they sponsored several snake dances which ended with a pep rally behind the senior high school.

During the basketball season as well they displayed great enthusiasm.

Congratulations, cheerleaders, for keeping up the morale of the students and team in victory and in defeat.

We Broke the Losing Streak

The Golden Tornadoes, under the direction of coach Steve Suhey, broke into the winning column this year with two victories.

September 18. Opening the season against Shippensburg the Tornadoes, having complete charge of the entire game, easily won 25-6.

September 25. In the second game Waynesboro won over a strong Martinsburg team 14-6.

October 2. Against a powerful Carlisle team the Suheymen lost their first game of the season 24-7.

October 9. Next to invade the school stadium was the Gettysburg Warriors winning a heartbreaker 12-6.

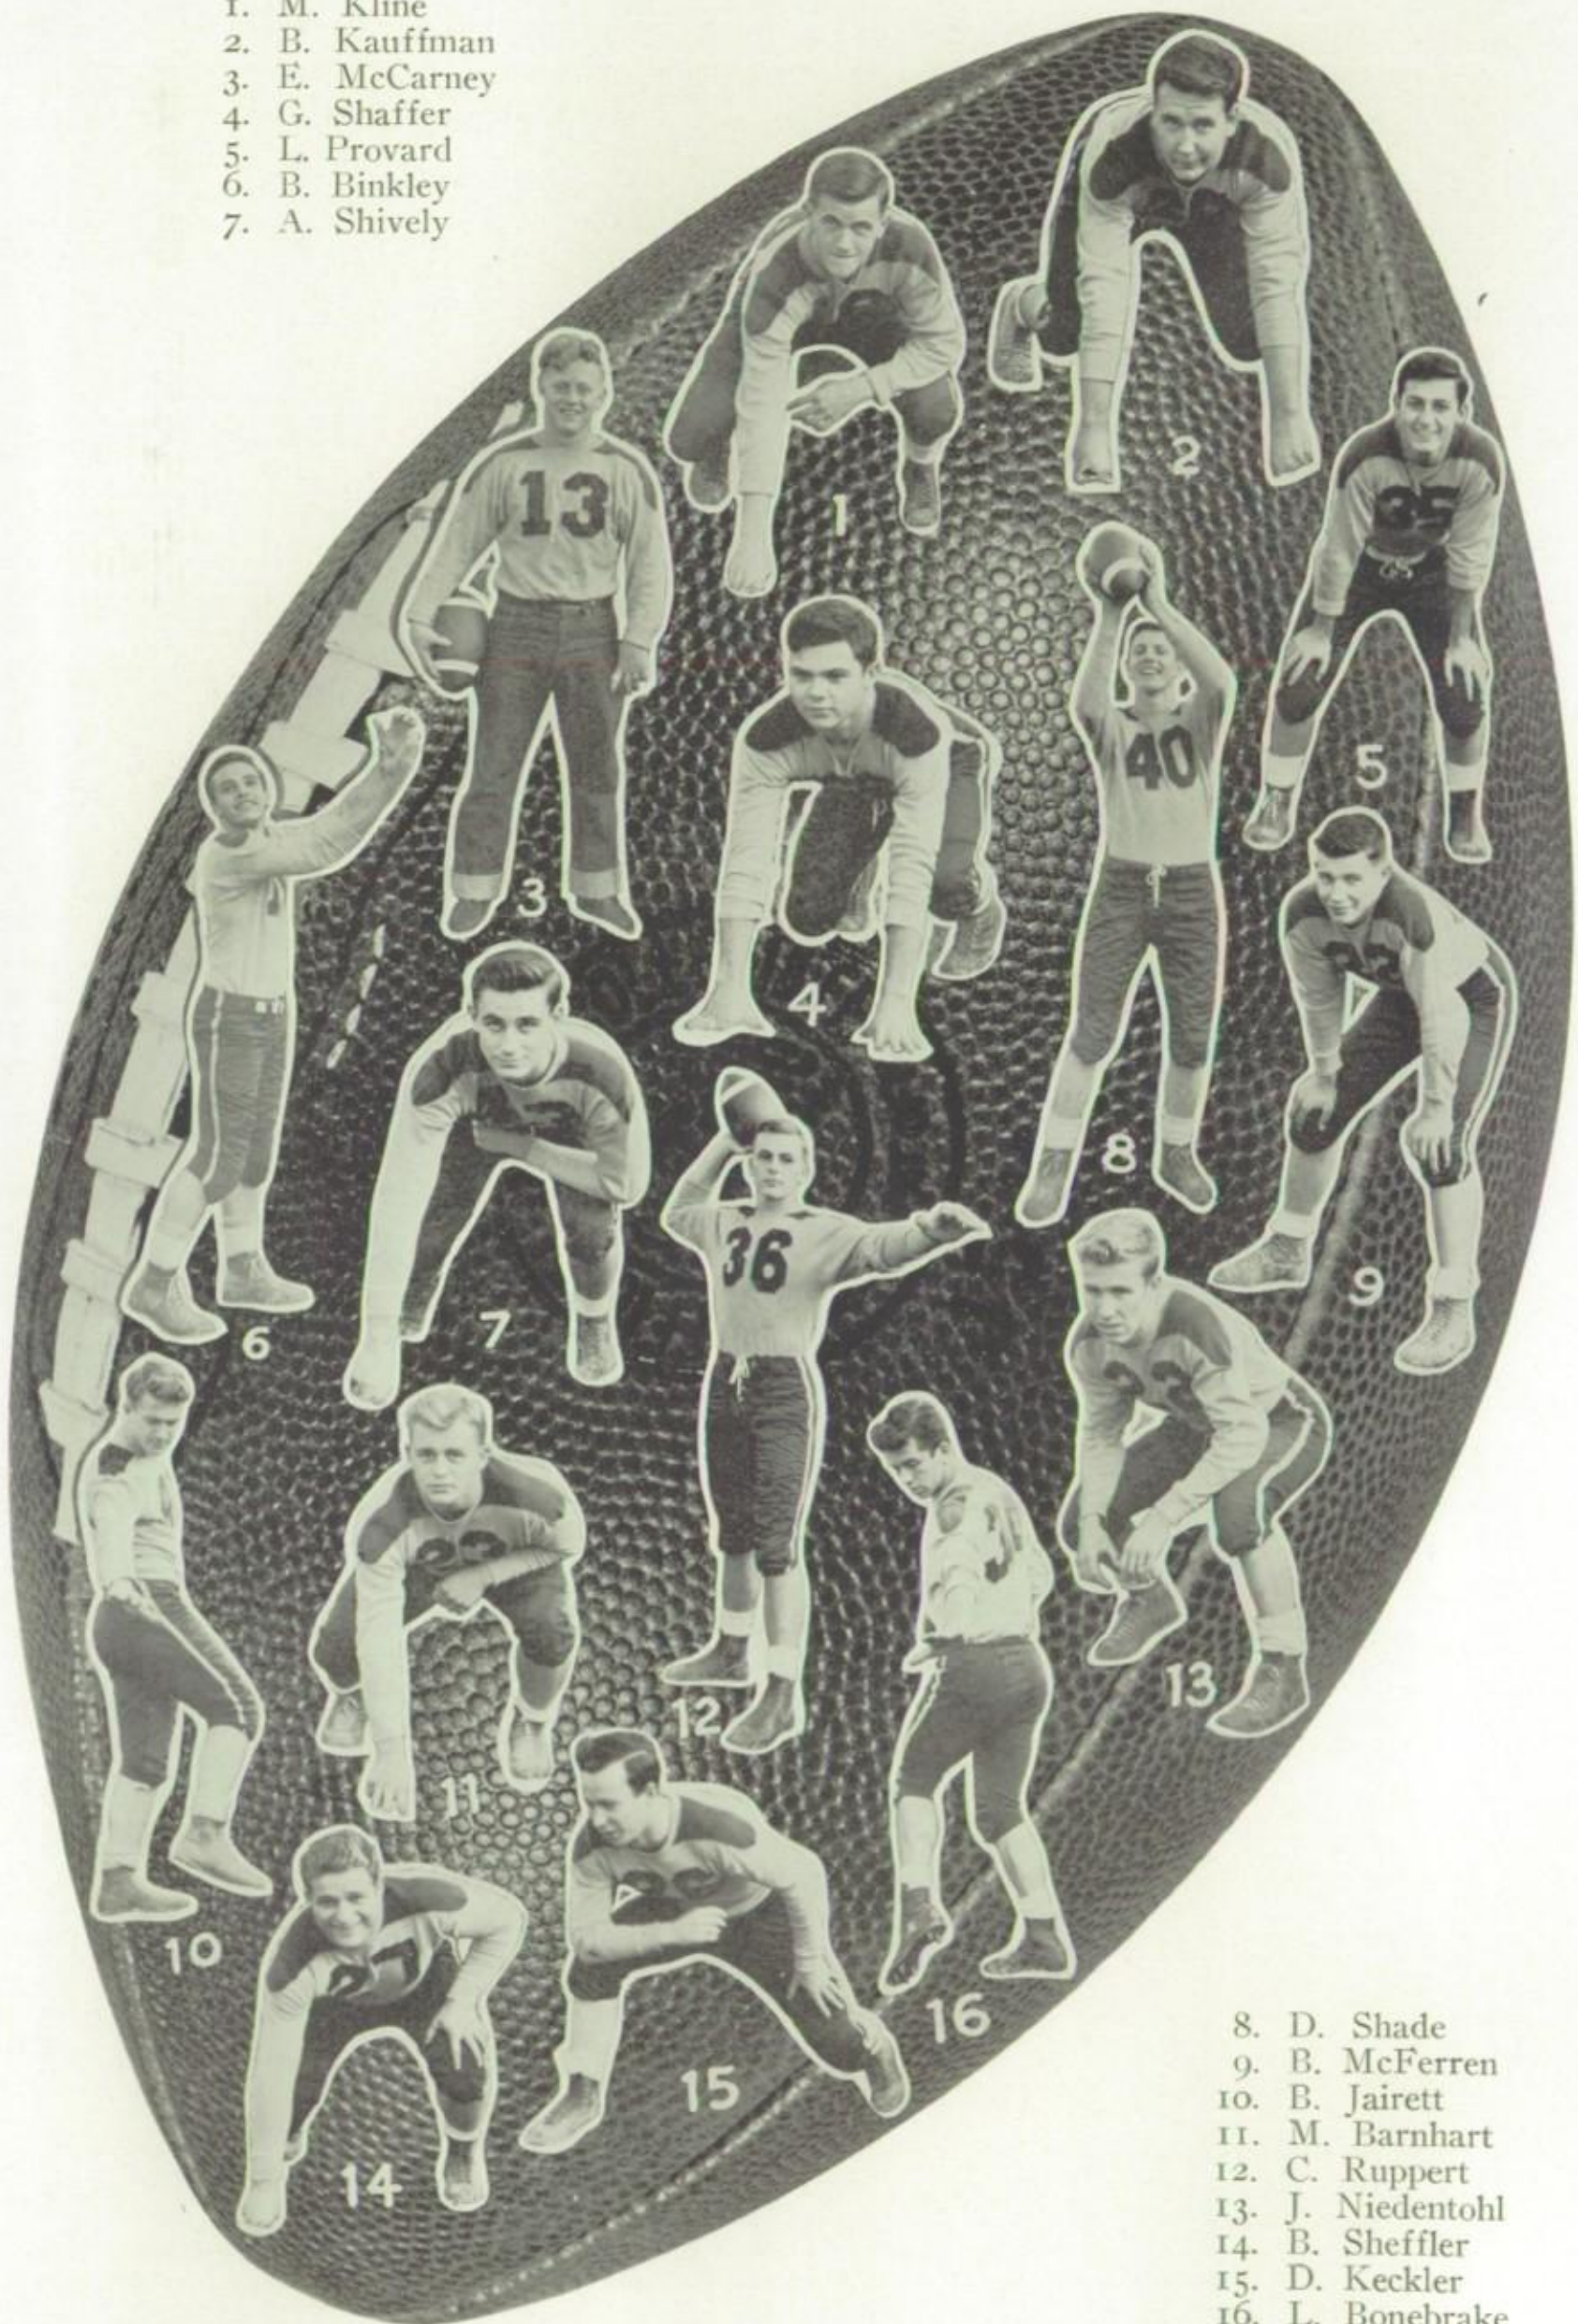

October 16. Playing against a far superior team, Waynesboro lost to Hershey 53-0.

October 23. The WAMA gridders lost this game to Mechanicsburg by a score 26-12.

October 30. In closing out the season the Golden Tornadoes were downed by Chambersburg 34-6.

The class of '54 is proud to have produced the team that broke the long losing streak.

We Set a New Scoring Record

The Waynesboro Tornadoes, under the direction of coach Harry Pure, former Gettysburg College star, fought bitterly throughout the entire season, managing to bring home the laurels eleven times out of twenty-two games.

After winning three of the five pre-conference games, the Tornadoes went on to win seven of its fourteen games in the South Penn Conference.

Having completed the regular season, Waynesboro entered the District III Class B playoffs. In the first game the Tornadoes won an easy victory over Dallastown, 57-36; but lost the next game to Camp Hill, 55-43.

Waynesboro can be proud of the new South Penn scoring record that Tom Cross set this season by scoring 305 points in fourteen games.

We Displayed Fine Sportsmanship

The 1953 baseball team under the direction of coach Lewis Purnell finished the season with 8 wins and 6 losses.

Fine sportsmanship and a fighting spirit were displayed by the team in all its games as the scores readily prove.

We are hopeful that the present season will show an even finer record.

We Collected Many Souvenirs

We Applauded the Senior Thespians

March 18 and 20 were of special significance to the seniors. It meant the completion of long hours of work on the part of the director, John E. Minnich, the cast and committees. "You Can't Kiss Caroline" was a tremendous success as was indicated by the applause of the appreciative audience as well as the box office receipts.

If the audience had gotten a back-stage glimpse of the activities of the senior thespians, they would have found them quite entertaining.

It seemed the play was doomed when Martha accidentally dropped a mirror and it shattered into bits. Even though she was feeling a bit depressed, she had to laugh at Sandra's remark about her "business dealings."

The make-up committee was kept busy removing the lipstick from Charlie's face, and when he was sure there were no traces left he'd join in the card game which seemed to be continuous.

Of course, a lot of unexpected incidents occurred on stage as well as behind scenes. Everyone breathed a sigh of relief when Eddie ad libbed so terrifically when the juke box failed to play. In fact ad libbing seemed to be the trend of the evening when the door stuck and Martha had to flex her muscles to pull it open.

Carolyn almost received a shower when Georgie unexpectedly dumped water out of her boots.

Even with all the minor catastrophies, everyone really enjoyed presenting our play.
